THE PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Its personally satisfying to me when I talk to many of our members and I hear so many positive comments about MD TAMS. Several of you have taken the time to write to me and I look forward to receiving your letters. I've chatted with some members at club meetings and coin shows and the enthusiam, camaraderie and comments are great! Like Dean Martin said when his television show was about to close for the evening, "Keep those cards and letters coming folks" ! Let me continue to hear from you and be sure to speak out expressing your ideas, criticism, comments or whatever! Your contributions to the success of MD TAMS is vital. I need your help and input to keep MD TAMS moving in the right direction.

It was decided in Executive Committee and announced at the October meeting that MD TAMS will be one of four host clubs for the Maryland State Numismatic Association (MSNA) Convention at the Towson Center on April 10-12, 1981. This affords us an excellent opportunity to raise some money and give needed support to the state association. And typical of such activities, there is work involved! Along with providing some help at the door, we have been assigned the Program and Raffle Committees. Chairman will be appointed to these committees and members will be called upon to work at the door. So, be prepared to volunteer and help!

Recently, some very distasteful and concerning news has come to my attention. One of our members was robbed and part of the items stolen was his token collection. So, please give serious consideration to the security and safety of your own collection

The policy of the Society is to publish the names and addresses of members as they join and to issue an annual membership roster, unless otherwise notified. Take the time to consider having your name listed and if you do not want your address published, please notify the editor. Also, if you move let the editor khow your new mailing address so you can continue receiving our journal.

Our membership is continuing to grow at a steady pace and we now have reached the lucky number of 77 members. Interestingly,about 20% of our membership resides in states other than Maryland. Besides our neighbors of Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania, we can boast of members from Florida, New York, Ohio, Iowa and California. So, our popularity is spreading and we have achieved some modest national recognition.

Discussion at the October meeting resulted in a significant change in our cataloging project. Because of the keen interest in the specialized area of collecting Anne Arundel County Farm Pickers Checks by a large group of our members, it was decided to catalog these items in a separate volume. Will Mumford, Associate Editor, has volunteered to spearhead this project. Much of the historical data about the farms has already been assembled by "Will", but he still needs your help on attributing many of the unknown mavericks. His pickers token list is appearing serially in the MD TAMS JOURNAL, so, let's all help out with attributing and new listings.

See you all at the next MD TAMS meeting in February.

Mike

MARYLAND I. C. S. TOKENS

BY DAVID E. SCHENKMAN

MD TAMS FC-4

About eight years ago I acquired a xerox copy of the records of the Insurance Credit System company. This company struck Insurance Credit System and Master Metal Scrip tokens, and the records were very helpful to me in cataloging Virginia tokens. Recently I went through the records again, this time to see what Maryland tokens the company struck. Surprisingly, only a few Maryland companies ordered I.C.S. tokens, no doubt due to the fact that there were several die sinking firms located in or near Maryland. The following information, taken from the I.C.S. records, should be of interest to collectors of Maryland tokens. The numbers in parenthesis are the quantities struck. My comments are bracketed [ ].

May, 1922: Silver Supply Company, Luke, Md. 900 tokens struck [no denominations or other information given].

July, 1925: The Cumberland Coal Co., The Douglas Co., Cumberland, Md.
1.00 brass (625); 50¢ nickel (150); 25¢ copper (200); 10¢ nickel (350); 5¢ brass (800); 1¢ nickel (200)
[According to Gordon Dodrell's book "20,000 Coal Company Stores" the Cumberland Coal Company was located in West Virginia; I don't know where these tokens were used]

Feb. 1928: Cumberland Coal Co., Baltimore, Md. 1¢ nickel plated (1500) "Ship to Baltimore - C.C. Co. for the Douglas Co., Douglas, W. Va."

June, 1928: Lindsey Coal Mining Co., Oakland, Md.
1.00 (200); 50¢ (100); 25¢ (100); 10¢ (150); 5¢ (200); 1¢ (500)
[The metals in which these tokens were struck is not indicated]

June, 1932: Cumberland Coal Co., Baltimore, Md. 1¢ nickel plated (1000)

Apr. 1937: Devon Club, Luke, Md.
1.00 nickel plated (550); 50¢ brass (825); 25¢ bronze (825); 10¢ nickel plated (1375); 5¢ brass (1375); 1¢ bronze (1925) "Subsidiary W. Va. Pulp & Paper Company"

June, 1937: Devon Club, Luke, Md. 1¢ (1925)[no metal indicated]

July, 1937: Devon Club, Luke, Md. 1¢ bronze, scalloped (2000) "Discarded old pennies due to coin machine & telephone pay station trouble" [This interesting comment explains why this company changed from round 1¢ tokens to scalloped edge ones].

Nov. 1939: Devon Club, Luke, Md. 1¢ bronze, scalloped (2000)

SCHENKMAN'S "VIRGINIA TOKENS" CATALOG PUBLISHED

A catalog of the trade tokens of Virginia has been completed by David E. Schenkman, under the auspices of the Virginai Numismatic Association. This hardbound, profusely illustrated, 238-page volume, entitled "Virginia Tokens", was released for sale in September. The catalog lists approximately 2,500 tokens from more than 400 towns in Virginia. A complete index lists all mavericks and approximately 1,400 photographs are included. This is a limited edition of 1000 numbered copies and is printed on acid-free paper.

This volume, a must for those interested in Virginia tokens and all token libraries, is priced at $25.00, plus $2.00 for shipping. Requests for copies of this catalog should be sent to the Virginia Numismatic Association, P. O. Box 353, Hampton, VA 23669. Checks should be made payable to the VNA.

In a COIN WORLD article, H. Joseph Levine, noted exonumist and MD TAMS member, (Presidential Coin and Antiques Co., Inc.) had this to say about author David Schenkman's latest works: "At the tender age of 40, Dave seems destined to assume the mantle of Melvin and George Fuld, the father and son team who are considered by many as the modern gurus of exonumia. This work is another giant step toward establishing this succession, and the anticipated publication of Dave's catalog on sutler tokens should affirm it even more". MD TAMS is indeed fortunate to have an author of David Schenkman's caliber as its Vice-President-Cataloging.

A partial page of Schenkman's "Virginia Tokens" catalog is shown below. It will give you an idea of the format of this work. Also, it will give MD TAMS members an idea of the quality of catalog we can expect when our Maryland Token catalog is completed.

Checken Fer Pickers

by
Will Mumford
MD TAMS R-43

A Continuing Study of Anne Arundel County Farm Pickers Checks.

We're off and running! With more probing and an excellent supplement from our editor, A. Vernon Taylor, our lists are beginning to grow. No doubt there are more of you that need to dig into your collections and help fill in the unknown names and furnish data on unlisted tokens. Any help is greatly appreciated.

One of the exciting aspects of collecting pickers checks is that there are still many people around that still remember using the tokens on their farms (or their grandparents or parents farms). Several months ago I gave a program on Anne Arundel pickers checks to a group of K-Wives and their Kawanian husbands near Glen Burnie. The program was well received and after the meeting quite a few persons came up to me to tell me that they could remember the little tokens when they were used on their old farms. One person, a Mr. Jefferson Monroe Chairs, nephew of Frank Chairs and great grandson of Jefferson Monore Cook, told me that he was a "row boss" for George A. Jenkins in 1941.

At the age of 15 he was in charge of a group of pickers who worked the "rows" of produce and it was his job to supervise his pickers and hand out the checks as they turned in their produce. He stated that he wore a carpenters apron and kept the various values of checks in different pockets. He remembers using a variety of checks in both aluminium and brass and always gave out the heavy brass tokens first as it would lighten this load. Mr. Chairs recalled that most of their pickers were blacks and they were transported to the head of Rock Creek by steamboat from Baltimore. He also shed new clues on why the produce farms in Anne Arundel County went out of business.

"For one thing the price of real estate rose so high that farmers could make more money by selling to developers." He also cited the high price of labor, and the lack of labor during the war (WW II).

"Another thing that messed up the farmers was the lack of street dirt from the cities," he recalled. Many farmers obtained their manure from city street sweepings, but as the automobile replaced the horse and carriage, no more "street dirt" was available for the farms. Alas,the poor farmer lost a cheap resource of fertilizer.

Mr. Chairs is now postmaster of the Lake Shore Branch of the Pasadena Post Office. He knows the locations of many of the old farms and we plan to get together and make new additions to the pickers check story. Now... on with our listings...

MD TAMS JC-27

Thanks to Mr. Russ Sears, I now have about a dozen new encased pieces to report to you in this and future issues. Mr. Sears brought his collection to the MD TAMS meeting in Wilmington, DE, and my father photographed them for me. MD EC-5 is the first pot shaped and MD EC-6 is the first horseshoed type with a loop that my father and I have seen that are Maryland pieces.

One of our new members, Mr. Paul Finck, is an encased collector and he hopes to write an article for the journal on this subject for a future issue.

I hope you like the selection in this issue. Thanks again to Mr. Sears.

THE DEVON CLUB???

By Richard Coy, NSCA

Reprinted from SCRIP TALK, Vol. 7, No. 75, December 1980, official publication of the National Script Collectors Association, by permission of the author and Walter Caldwell, Editor.

When I picked up the tokens in an antique shop in the Keyser, W.Va. area and read on them "DEVON CLUB/ LUKE MD." I naturally thought they were issued by a night club or bar type establishment from that town. How wrong I was !!

The owner of the antique shop said the tokens had come from the present owner of a restaurant located in the Devon Club building and that the restaurant owner had found them while cleaning out the building recently.

Because the tokens were of the system scrip type (they were manufactured by the Ingle Schierloh Co. and are Master Metal - Des. Pat. type) my curosity was aroused therefore I asked the antique shop owner if the Devon Club was connected with a coal mine or something of that nature. His reply was "No", his understanding was the Devon Club was at one time connected with Westvaco, the paper mill in Luke, Md. On further questioning about whether or not the Devon Club was a bar for the paper mill employees I was told "No", it was a place where the employees could go to buy ice cream and other sundry items and also play pool.

Upon returning to Morgantown, and discussing the Devon Club with some fellow employees of mine who were former residents of Keyser, W.Va., I was told that the Devon Club was at one time an organization for the employees of Westvaco. One of my fellow employees told me his brother worked at Westvaco and he could probably give me some information about the Devon Club and the tokens.

That very night I called Dick Hess, an employee of Westvaco and explained my reason for calling. He was very receptive to my inquiry for information. Information given to me by Dick Hess about Westvaco and the Devon Club is as follows:

> The Devon Club was in fact an organization for the employees of Westvaco and furthermore was actually owned and operated by the employees. The building itself was a very large three-story structure and housed at the lower level a bowling alley in which duck pins were used. Also contained in the building was a soda fountain, a movie theatre, a pool table area, and the general merchandise area. No liquor or alcoholic beverages of any kind were served in the club. The Devon Club was referred to as the company store by many employees and up to several years ago an employee could purchase merchandise and pay for it by a check off system. Items which could be purchased included clothes, tires, groceries, guns, lawnmowers, etc.
> In the 18 years that Mr. Hess had been employed at Westvaco he had not used any of the tokens nor was he familiar with them. In his conversation with some of his more senior co-workers they could not remember ever using tokens, all of their purchases were paid for via the check off system. One of these co-workers has been with the company for 42 years, therefore, they surmized that the tokens were used in the early thirties (our Scripident Chart dates this type of token from 1934-1941).
> Closing of the club came in 1975 and at that time the building was leased to an individual who opened a restaurant.

West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company was established in 1888 by William Luke and his sons, on 50 acres of land known as West Piedmont. Establishment of this pulpmill was the second known one in the state of West Virginia (the first known pulpmill was at Harpers Ferry and was established two years earlier in 1886). This was Westvaco's first plant, and it was a sulphite mill.

Luke, Maryland (formerly West Piedmont) is a small town near the coal fields of eastern West Virginia and western Maryland and lies across the river (North Branch of the Potomac River) from Piedmont, W. Va. The town was of course named after the Luke family who owned and managed the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

One story has it that the pulp and paper company was located in West Virginia at one time but during construction or an expansion of the mill, the course of the river was changed. The mill then was determined to be located in the state of Maryland after a boundary dispute between the two states.

The pulp and paper mill has grown in importance to Piedmont, Luke, and the surrounding area, and has outlasted railroad shops, early saw mills and other industries. Until about 1968 the plant was known as the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and it was at that time that the mill had a name change and became known as Westvaco.

Today the major portion of the mill is located in Luke, Maryland, however the wood chip and lime kiln operations are located in West Virginia.

Westvaco manufactures and markets a wide range of products today, that in some way find their way into many of our homes and businesses. Known for the quality of their printing papers which are used for annual reports, catalogs, etc., one can find their paper in such prestigious magazines as National Geographic, Natural History, and Gourmet.

THE FIND:

INDIVIDUAL CATALOGING PROJECTS BY MD TAMS MEMBERS

In addition to our Society's cataloging project for Maryland Tokens by David Schenkman, several members are actively engaged in cataloging other speciality areas of exonumia. The following is a trial listing of these catalogers:

David Schenkman is working on cataloging the tokens of Washington, D. C. If any member has any of these pieces, David would like to hear from you. Give him a call or write him a note.

Moses Moore is gathering data and tokens for his work on the Tokens of Dorchester County. See his Classified Ad. Drop him a line if you have something you feel is of interest to him.

Robert A. Johnson is cataloging the tokens issued for the American Bicentennial. See his article in MD TAMS JOURNAL, Whole No. 4, page 10. Check out your pieces and write him.

Willard Mumford, our Associate Editor for Anne Arundel County Pickers Checks, is hard at work on this subject. Follow his activities in the "Checken Fer Pickers" column in our journal. Better still, don't just follow his activities--contribute to them.

Stanley Brown, our Maryland Woods expert, has been getting some nice new pieces from some of you. Keep up the good work. Keep letting him know of new finds.

William Kuethe's "Magicians' Tokens" catalog has, of course, been published, (TAMS JOURNAL, Vol. 18, No. 5, October 1978) but, cataloging goes on. Keep him in mind and if you find some new information you don't see in his catalog.

Joan Taylor is gathering information on Maryland Encased Coins. Again, some of you have contributed information to her for future listing in the journal. Bring your encased pieces to one of our meetings for photographing, or write descriptions or xerox the pieces and send to her.

Vernon Taylor is working on cataloging the Medals, Medallions and Plaquettes of sculptor Hans Schuler and his son Hans C. Schuler, Jr. He would be happy to hear from you about your Hans Schuler pieces.

Give these catalogers your support. Let your editor know if you are cataloging in your specialized field.

You will find the addresses of these catalogers in you MD TAMS JOURNAL, Whole No. 5.
